NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Ophthalmologists must constantly update their practice by incorporating new evidence-based therapies, surgical techniques and scientific insights. Results of needs assessments indicate an educational need for a succinct update on the latest developments in ophthalmology from experts in the field utilizing didactic instruction, video presentations, panel discussions and interactive roundtable sessions. This course is designed to change physician performance in all areas related to cataract surgery.

ENROLLMENT

Please register early – space is limited.

Tuition is $499 for physicians and $299 for all others. The fees will increase after April 1. Tuition includes continental breakfasts, refreshment breaks, welcome reception, electronic syllabus, and an online certificate of attendance. Tuition may be paid by check, American Express, Discover, MasterCard or VISA. Cash is not accepted.

Registration forms received without payments will not be processed until payment is received, and payment must follow within 10 days.

Early discount rates are honored if payment is received by the date noted on the enrollment form. After that date, the late fee is applied.

On-site Fees: At door registrations will be charged at a higher rate. Please see enrollment form for details.

CANCELLATION AND REFUND POLICY: A refund of tuition, less $100 administrative fee, will be allowed if requested in writing by May 1. No refunds will be provided after this date.

ACTIVITY DESCRIPTION

This 3-day meeting will provide the comprehensive ophthalmologist with information and skills related to the latest developments in the subspecialties of cataract surgery, glaucoma, retina, cornea/external disease, pediatric ophthalmology, neuro-ophthalmology and oculoplastics surgery. There will be a particular focus on cataract surgery: preoperative management, intraoperative considerations, and postoperative complications. Participants will also participate in mini-symposia with grand rounds-style complex case presentations. Round table sessions will also be employed to cover each area of ophthalmology.

A follow up questionnaire will be distributed to all participants to evaluate change in patient care practice as a result of this learning activity.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the end of the activity, participants should be able to:

- Evaluate the preoperative management of the ocular surface prior to cataract surgery
- Discuss management of complicated intraocular lens calculations
- List current recommendations cataract surgery and intraocular lens placement in the pediatric population
- Identify corneal diseases that may impact the outcome of cataract surgery
- List newer surgical advances for addressing glaucoma at the time of cataract surgery and understand what is the current standard of care
- Discuss use of the femtosecond laser for cataract surgery
ACCREDITATION

The University of California, Davis Health System is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Leading the way in vision care and research

Our vision is to be the world’s transformational leader in collaborative vision research and in the development of cures for blinding eye disease from cornea to cortex.

We will realize our vision through pioneering collaborative vision research, providing state-of-the-art, world-class eye care, and training superbly prepared ophthalmologists and vision scientists.

As a full-time academic department, the UC Davis Eye Center offers extensive educational opportunities for medical students, residents, postgraduate and community physicians.

The Eye Center Faculty are committed to resident, fellow and postgraduate education and training, enhancing and growing our facilities and providing opportunities for diverse patient care, research and academic pursuits.
